

Temporal Evolution Card

The analyses performed so far seem to be correct. However, you notice that the data will evolve over time (evolution of the product offer, evolution of prices, changes due to the application of the algorithm).

How can you ensure that the statistical conclusions will remain valid over time?