Missing Data Card

The performance of your learning algorithm is not good. After a detailed analysis, you notice that data containing missing values (users who did not fill in a field, sensors that did not work...) were ignored by the algorithm. The algorithm only used 1% of the available data, which explains its poor performance.

What do you do?